

In Figure 14, this is the same configuration as the previous Figure. A few of the Devices have been expanded to display the Pages within. Notice from Device to Device, the page names are somewhat consistent. This is a standard element of our Design Methodology. However, you may have pages which are specific to some Devices and you are encouraged to expand our Design Methodology to incorporate some original thinking.

Figure 15 – Typical Basic Design (Expanded View)

